

Cookie Policy

To make this site work properly, we sometimes place small data files called cookies on your device. By using this website and agreeing to this policy you consent to Lawyers2you's use of cookies in accordance with the terms of this policy.

What are cookies?

A cookie is a simple text file that is stored on your computer or mobile device by a website's server when you visit the site. It enables the website to remember your actions and preferences (such as login, language, font size and other display preferences) over a period of time, so you don't have to keep re-entering them whenever you come back to the site or browse from one page to another. This will help to make your use of the internet quicker and easier by allowing websites to remember who you are and determine your previous activity.

How do we use cookies?

Lawyers2you website uses the following cookies on this website for the following purposes:

Google Analytics; a service provided by Google Inc. in order to evaluate and measure a visitor's use of the Lawyers2you website. This cookie does not collect information that identifies an individual. Google will store and use this information. Google's privacy policy is available at <http://www.google.com/privacypolicy.html>.

How to control cookies

You can control and/or delete cookies as you wish – for details, see aboutcookies.org. You can delete all cookies that are already on your computer and you can set most browsers to prevent them being placed. If you do this, however, you may have to manually adjust some preferences every time you visit a site and some services and functionalities may not work.

To find out more about cookies, including how to see which cookies have been set and how to manage and delete them, visit: www.allaboutcookies.org.

If you want to opt-out of being tracked by Google Analytics across all websites visit <https://tools.google.com/dlpage/gaoptout>.
